Brock Given 12 Years for Wife's Slaying

Wayne Brock, 21, a former Hope radio announcer, pleaded guilty to second degree murder in Hempstead Circuit Court yesterday and was sentenced to 12 years in the state penitentiary by Judge Lyle Brown.

Brock was charged with first degree murder in the fatal shooting of his 17-year-old wife, Kathy Ellis Brock, on January 20 of his 17-year-old wife, Kathy Ellis Brock. The charge was reduced after a conference between defense and prosecuting attorneys and Judge Lyle Brown. Brock had pleaded innocent to the first degree murder charge.

His attorney, State Sen. Q. Byron Hurlst, of Hot Springs and W. S. Atkins of Hope, asked the mercy of the court in changing the plea.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Lyle Brown said:

"The primary cause of her death was the unwise union of a teen-ager boy and girl who were never meant for each other, or who were so immature that they never had a chance to adjust to each other."

"He undoubtedly needs specialized medical treatment. However, he is not afflicted with criminal insanity, and the only institution to which this court can commit him is the Arkansas State Penitentiary for a period of not less than five nor more than 21 years."

"Considering the mitigating circumstances heretofore related, and considering the fact that this boy has no criminal or juvenile record, the court should be reasonably lenient."

"Nevertheless, he did a terrible thing, and notwithstanding his youth, he was certainly old enough and intelligent enough, to know, and mentally capable, of realizing that death could very easily ensue if he pursued his course of conduct. Therefore the court feels that he should be sentenced to the penitentiary for a period of 12 years," the judge concluded.

Miss Arkansas Is a Tall Girl

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Miss Arkansas, Miss Kay Kenney, stood out above the other girls competing in the Miss America pageant here.

The reason—they're the tallest contestants in the beauty and talent contest. Both Claudette Smith of Star City, Ark., and Alice Chumbley of Jamestown, Ky., stand 5-feet-6.

Hurricane Kills 70, Still Threat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Donna's death toll mounted today in raging floods in the wake of the big Atlantic storm.

Civil Defense officials estimated 2 persons were dead or missing in the Hurricane area on Puerto Rico's southeast coast. In many other towns on the island, only rooftops were visible above the floods triggered by Donna's tempestuous rains as she passed north of Puerto Rico Monday.

The 125-mile-an-hour storm killed five persons in the Leeward Islands and the Miami Weather Bureau says it may have been responsible for the loss of 63 lives in the crash of a French airliner Aug. 29.

An Air France Super Constellation, enroute for a landing at Dakar in French West Africa, fell into the Atlantic in a blinding rainstorm that could have marked the birth of the hurricane.

A few hours later, Donna was picked up for the first time by the Weather Bureau off the African coast as she began whirling westward across the Atlantic.

An ominous slowdown in the forward movement of the storm indicated today that the United States mainland still may be in danger.

A decrease in the forward movement of hurricanes, often means a change in direction, said the chief storm forecaster, Gordon Dunn, of the Miami bureau.

Earlier, the 25-mile-an-hour storm edged slightly toward a more northerly direction. If continued, this gradual northward curve could keep it away from the mainland.

KENNEDY MAN—Bobby Schriver isn't throwing that big rock at any of his uncle's political enemies. The six-year-old, nephew of John F. Kennedy, is just frolicking in the surf in Hyannis Port, Mass. He is the son of Kennedy's sister, Eunice, and Chicago businessman Sargent Schriver.

Father Says His Son Was Shanghaied

BUREKA, Calif. (AP) — Emory Mitchell, father of the National Security Agency mathematician who disappeared in June, was surprised to learn of the fact report today that his son was in Moscow.

Moscow radio said his son, Robert Mitchell, and William H. Martin, 20, of Ellensburg, Wash., told a news conference in Moscow today they have been granted political asylum by the Soviet government. Martin is a longtime friend and co-worker of Mitchell's.

Rescued from sleep at 3 a.m., the senior Mitchell said the only information he has heard about the two men came from news reports.

Mitchell said he doesn't plan to go to the Soviet Union or contact his son.

"I assume he will get in touch with me," the Bureka, Calif., attorney said.

Asked about his son's political leanings Mitchell tersely answered: "He has none."

Early last month, Mitchell had said, "If my son has gone to a Communist country and it's a wild assumption—then he has been shanghaied."

Bulletins

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Gunfire broke out in the city today after several hundred Congolese sped toward the residence of Premier Patrice Lumumba clamoring for his death.

ROME (AP) — Ous Davis, who gave up basketball for truck at the age of 26, won the Olympic 400 meters today in world record time of 44.9 seconds. The 28-year-old from Los Angeles brought the United States its 22nd gold medal of the games.

Ike Regards 2 Americans as Traitors

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower regards the two National Security Agency employees who defected to the Soviet Union as self-confessed traitors to the United States, the White House said today.

Eisenhower's comment, relayed through press secretary James C. Hagerty, followed a report that the defectors were code-named "Hagerty" and "Hagerty" and were smuggled into the Soviet Union aboard a Soviet trawler that picked them up in a Cuban port.

Hagerty was asked whether the U.S. government had any knowledge in advance of the appearance of Bernon F. Mitchell and William H. Martin in Moscow today, that they had defected to the Soviet Union.

Hagerty replied that he wanted to "change the word 'defectors' to self-confessed traitors."

Then he added that it would not be appropriate for him, as a White House official, "to have an statement on self-confessed traitors."

Asked about Eisenhower's reaction on the matter, Hagerty replied he felt he had already stated how the President feels about it.

"Does he regard them as self-confessed traitors?" a newsman asked.

"Yes," Hagerty shot back. "Don't you?"

Other government officials, who declined to be identified, reported that government agencies knew about the departure of Mitchell and Martin from Cuba aboard a Soviet trawler shortly after the ship left Cuba. Cuban authorities were believed to have cooperated in the trip, they said.

Holiday Traffic Death Toll Has Reached 414

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic 414

Total 414

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The number of persons killed in traffic accidents across the nation during the three-day Labor Day weekend totaled 414 today.

While tragically high, the count was lower than last year's Labor Day toll and considerably less than the National Safety Council's estimate of 460 and the record Labor Day toll of 461 set in 1951.

Although the 78-hour holiday ended at midnight, local time Monday, reports of traffic fatalities occurring up to that hour continued to trickle in today.

In addition to those killed in traffic accidents, an Associated Press count of accidental deaths between 6 p.m. local time, Friday and midnight Monday showed 28 died in boating accidents, 60 in drowning and 90 in miscellaneous mishaps for an over-all total of 612.

In last year's Labor Day holiday period, also covering 78 hours, there were 430 traffic deaths, 20 persons were killed in boating accidents. The over-all toll of 613 compared with the record of 650 set in the 1951 Labor Day weekend.

Accidents in State Fatal to 6 Persons

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Six Arkansians died in accidents during the long Labor Day weekend.

Three perished in traffic mishaps, two drowned and one died in a fire.

A 16-year-old Little Rock youth on a Labor Day church outing drowned in Bull Bayou near Hot Springs yesterday.

Authorities said an unidentified passerby recovered the body of Donnie Lucas, who drowned while swimming with other members of the fellowship class from Little Rock's First Pentecostal Church.

Apparently Lucas suffered a cramp. One of the other youths in his class tried unsuccessfully to save him.

Another 16-year-old boy drowned yesterday in the Spring River near Black Rock. He was Gale Itaney son of Mrs. Ruby Lamborth of Black Rock.

The body had not been recovered.

McCaskill to Hear New School Head

The new superintendent of the Blevins Schools, Wallace R. Neece and his family will be guests at a dinner given by the McCaskill R.C.I. in their honor Friday night at 7 p.m. at the community center building.

Mr. Neece has been asked to the high school at Jacksonville for the past 10 years.

Mr. Neece has been asked to address the RCI members on various aspects of schools today.

Mrs. J. G. Prescott, president of the RCI, urges all members to attend in to bring a covered dish for the dinner. A special invitation is extended to all newcomers in the community to attend this first meeting of the fall season.

Pair Injured in Highway Accident

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Ray of Shreveport were injured late yesterday when the auto in which they were riding left the road and hit a ditch on Highway 67, about three miles east. Ray told State Officers that he was forced off the road by a truck. They were brought to a local hospital for treatment by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance.

Two Missing American Code Clerks Turn Up in Moscow Full of Tales About U. S.

By STANLEY JOHNSON
MOSCOW (AP) — Two young code clerks from the super-secret U.S. National Security Agency turned up in Moscow today with tales that the United States is spying over on its allies under a policy they feel will lead to World War III.

Darren F. Mitchell, 31, Eureka, Calif., and William H. Martin, 20, Ellensburg, Wash., announced they had defected to the Soviet Union and intend to become Soviet citizens.

"We would attempt to crawl to the moon if we thought it would lessen the threat of an atomic war," they said in a statement.

The Russians put the two on display under television lights in the gilt-ornamented Journalists Club. From a platform, the two detailed the two complaints against the United States and spilled to newsmen what they said were NSA communications intelligence secrets. They said the United States had broken the codes of friendly nations and even planted a spy in a friendly embassy.

Mitchell and Martin, bachelor friends since service in the U. S. Navy, refused to tell how they got to Moscow from NSA headquarters at Ft. Meade, Md. They are known to have come by way of Mexico City.

"That might prevent others from taking the same route," they said.

The two left Ft. Meade late in June on vacation, ostensibly to visit relatives on the West Coast. They never reached the coast.

Mitchell and Martin professed to believe that U.S. policy may lead to World War III. They complained chiefly of American reconnaissance flights over Soviet territory and the rim of Red China.

Civil Strife at Peak in Congo Nation

By LYNN HEINZLERING
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The United Nations took over radio Leopoldville today and banned all broadcasts.

The measure was taken as part of the U.N. mandate to maintain peace and order in the nation, tottering on the verge of civil war.

At the same time the U.N. Congo command announced it has tightened control over all airports serving its operations. All civilian traffic was halted.

Premier Patrice Lumumba called for an emergency session of parliament to seek a vote of confidence in a showdown fight for power with President Joseph Kasavubu.

Lumumba acted after a rush of events in which Kasavubu went on the air in a dramatic move Monday night and announced the fiery premier's ouster. The latter countered by taking over the network and announcing he had fired Kasavubu as chief of state.

Claiming they have the support of the Congolese army, Lumumba's supporters issued the call to both houses after an all-night cabinet session.

Lumumba was plainly determined to keep his job despite Kasavubu's charge that "under the premier's leadership, the Congo was plunging into fratricidal strife and sliding toward the Soviet bloc."

As dawn broke over the tangle capital, it appeared that Lumumba was still in authority.

Kasavubu's house was surrounded.

Red Germany Issues More Threats

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany warned today that its recent travel ban against isolated Berlin was only a taste of what it could do, and there was a veiled threat to cut off the air corridors to Berlin.

The Communists threats had Western officials worried about the coming weeks.

The five-day travel ban last weekend was directed only against West Germans and was lifted Monday on schedule. The Communists hailed it as a victory, since the West did little but protest.

So far, the air corridors to Berlin have been the only means of access untouched by Communist measures.

Over the weekend, East German authorities also made trouble for barges in the Elbe River bound for Berlin. But transport authorities said that some of the barges now are making their way to Berlin.

Cubans May Break With Argentina

By RICHARD VALERIANI
HAVANA (AP) — A bitter exchange between Fidel Castro's Cuba and Argentina sparked predictions today of a diplomatic break between the two Latin American countries.

Cuba's Foreign Minister Raul Roa brought the issue to a head Monday night. In a sharp note to Argentine ambassador Julio A. Amosado, he flatly rejected Argentina's protests over his recent attack on the government of President Arturo Prondizi before the Organization of American States in San Jose, Costa Rica.

Roa also sent a note—milder in tone—brushing aside Brazil's protests against his attack on Foreign Minister Horacio Lacerda.

The exchange was prompted when Roa launched a biting attack on Argentina and Brazil at San Jose after they joined 17 other OAS nations in a censure of Cuba for agreeing to accept Soviet military aid in event of a U.S. attack.

Roa countered the Argentine protest by declaring it was impossible that he had offended the dignity of the Argentine people since "the dignity of the Argentine people was defended and honored in San Jose by the delegation of Cuba and not by the delegation of Argentina."

Argentina's behavior at the OAS conference demonstrated, said Roa, "its frank admission to interventionist and aggressive maneuvers planned and organized by the U.S. government against Cuba."

He said Argentina had joined in opposing a Cuban resolution which would respect the rights of the Cuban people to rule their own destiny. The Cuban resolution, which was defeated, charged the United States with economic aggression.

Tides Take Toll in Puerto Rico

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Ramping floods and high tides took a heavy toll here Monday in the wake of Hurricane Donna. Civil Defense officials said today.

They estimated 42 persons were dead or missing in the area of Humacao, a city on Puerto Rico's southeast coast.

Floods swept other island towns, they reported. Navy helicopters were rescuing people from house-tops in Carolina, a town of 5,000 population in northeast Puerto Rico.

Parts of Bayamon, a city of 20,000 five miles southwest of San Juan, were flooded by the river of the same name.

Sinus Trouble Can Now Be Corrected

Sinus trouble is very prevalent in this part of the country. Some of the symptoms are frontal headache, pain about the orbits of the eyes and through the areas of the nose. There seems to be a continuous drainage from the nose, the eyes are affected and water.

The lack of the ability of the body to adapt the tissues of the nose and throat to sudden weather changes seem to be the predisposing cause. This is due to the lack of control of these tissues by the nervous system. This can be readily proved by the fact that you can pamper this condition by changing climate or altitude. However, this does not remove the cause and soon the symptoms manifest themselves again.

Chiropractic adjustments remove the cause of these inordinations very readily and in most cases complete recovery is possible.

 Jason Senwe, secretary of state, who took part in the all-night Cabinet session said, "We are going before the parliament. We are sure we will get a majority. The army is also behind Lumumba."
 The sudden turn of events caught the U.N. in the middle with observers wondering which side it will deal with. Under basic Congo law — still not ratified — the president can dismiss the premier. But this legality could prove meaningless.

All U.N. forces in the capital were put on alert and a special U.N. guard was posted around Kasavubu's residence. U.N. units of British-trained Ghanaian and Sudanese machinegunners and Moroccan riflemen kept watch over the tense capital.

(Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld studied reports of the twin grabs for power at his U.N. headquarters in New York. But he held off comment.)

(There was no indication how soon another Congo emergency session of the Security Council might be called. "The situation in Leopoldville is just too fluid for us to say anything at this time," a spokesman for the secretary general said.)

Kasavubu made his bold move in mid-evening. He broadcast an announcement that the erratic premier had been fired and said he was trying to stop the Congo's lunge toward the Communist camp. He accused Lumumba of having pushed the strife-torn republic into a fratricidal war and disaster.

The president asked Senate President Joseph Ileo, moderate political leader of the National Congolese Movement, to form a new government.

Two hours later, Lumumba made his move. Taking control of the network, he proclaimed himself in power.

"Forward youth and workers of the Congo," he shouted. "You must defend the republic."

As a studio audience of supporters clapped and cheered, Lumumba declared that Kasavubu was no longer chief of state.

"I am still chief of the national army," he asserted.

There appeared little doubt the Congolese army—although poorly trained and ill-disciplined—will play a determining role in the crisis.

Kasavubu's bid for control obviously was triggered by a desire to block a Soviet-led attempt to move into central Africa through material and technical aid to the Lumumba government.

A few hours before the president made his announcement, more than a score of Czechs dined in the airport restaurant and prepared to make a tour of the country to study the economic and social system.

Well-informed sources said more than 200 Russians have moved into the Congo in recent weeks. The Kremlin has supplied Lumumba with planes and military vehicles.

Civil war is raging in the south-east where Lumumba forces are trying to quell secessionist movements. Hundreds of tribesmen, soldiers and armed civilians are reported to have been killed.

A law requiring that public schools be established in every town of 50 families or more was passed in 1647 in the Massachusetts Bay Colony.

CHAPTER XXVI

Brett tossed the shovel aside and struck off across the yard. He came onto the groaning planks of the porch and with an extreme reluctance moved into the house.

He'd no intention of letting Lola know. He was too miserably aware of his own unworthiness, of the curse of violence that would never let him go. He couldn't afford to think beyond this. He was nothing—less than nothing, his only reason for staying being the chance of doing whatever he might, knowing there could be no sequel to what he felt for this strange girl.

He found her standing before a window, slender and—almost wraithlike in that uncertain light. She brought herself around, facing him still-eyed bracing herself in a way that hit him harder than tears ever could have.

The compulsion to take her into his arms almost overpowered him. It needed every ounce of control he had to stand so near and keep his hands off her; it brought the kid into his head and left him white-faced and shaken, bitterly conscious of his weakness, almost hating himself for the things that churned in through him.

He said gruffly, "I've buried him," and the silence closed in again, an increasing awareness sharpening his hunger, the needs of the flesh rising up like sap in him. With an almost audible groan his eyes twisted away from her. He used what words he could lay hand to, trying to shove this thing away from them. "I'll put up the stove." He sounded like a fool, but he had to get out of there.

He whirled away, plunging into the kitchen, stumbling over wrecked furniture, boots grating harshly on the shards of smashed dishes. He righted the stove that had been tipped over—a wood-burning range that at the time had been empty—found a rock anchoring the weapon in the waistband of his pants.

He went in, lugging both rifles. He left them against the wall where they'd be handy and took the bent fork Lola handed him. They ate from the skillet doggedly, not talking, each of them uncomfortably aware of the other, and of the tension that was filling the room beyond bearing.

Brett went out when the food was gone and fetched a bucket of water, putting it down near what was left of the sink, not trusting his eyes, knowing she was watching him. Their nearness and the danger made him unconsciously awkward.

Lola was frightened and completely alone. A woman torn by needs she could not understand, trapped by her ignorance. Though Brett did not put these things into precise terms, he felt them and was shaken by them. Sensing the hurricane bottled fiercely inside her, the torture and conflict, he realized that she believed her feelings to be cheap and degrading.

The house was suddenly too small, both of them knew it. "I better pack out some of this stuff," he growled, glaring at it. There was hardly a stick of whole furniture left.

When he came back she was standing in the middle of the room.

He cut around her, heading for a ripped apart section of the horsehair sofa someone of Lola's bunch had dragged out of the sitting room.

"Brett, we can't run away from this thing forever."

It stopped him cold. He couldn't breathe. He couldn't think. The thickening shadows mocked and taunted him. He knew she was waiting for him to face her, make some answer, and there were no words in him—none he dared speak.

His eyes took hold of the gouged wall fiercely yet he was acutely conscious of the way her hands came uncertainly out, of the feelings that turned her so blindly away, of the sound of her footsteps dropping like stones into the silence. Brett half turned watching her, dark of face; and suddenly a mighty fear was in him. He broke out of his tracks and she whipped around with a catch of breath, head high, and came back, stopping directly in front of him.

Both her hands came out and up to catch hold of him. He felt her fingers tight on his shoulders; and she was silent, head tilted, searching his face. He said hoarsely, marveling, "You're not afraid."

Little Rock Schools Open Peacefully

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Twelve Negro children entered two once-white high schools today in an atmosphere of peacefulness.

The only jarring note at the campuses of Central and Hall High Schools was the presence of a few patrolmen.

Seven of the Negroes went uneventfully into Central about five minutes before fall classes started at 8:45 a.m.

At Hall, five other Negroes joined a stream of white pupils entering the building about the same time as classes began at Central, some two miles away.

There were no gatherings of adults at either school.

A school board member, B. Frank Mackey, was at Central just before the Negroes walked in. Mackey told newsmen the peaceful scene was "very heartening."

School Board President Everett Tucker Jr. said:

"It's nice that school is open again."

The president of the segregationist Capital Citizens Council Dr. Malcolm Taylor, had said earlier that his organization planned no demonstrations.

"I don't know. It's just. . . . He could scarcely hear her. She was trembling again. In this dark he strained to read her expression, knowing the folly—unable to help himself.

He took hold of her, elbows, clutching them, painfully. He caught the gleam of her teeth. She cried fiercely. "I've found you! Nothing else matters!"

He broke, pulling her to him, and she clung softly crying, with her face against his shirt, his own face buried in her hair.

Non-Violent Group Formed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An Arkansas State Non-Violent Coordinating Committee has been formed by a group of Negro students at Philander Smith College here to work toward breaking down racial barriers.

Chapters are being formed over the state, said the Rev. William E. Bush of Toledo, Ohio, a Philander Smith student and leader of the group.

"We do not advocate sit-ins or similar movements," Bush said. "But if sit-ins are required we intend to use them."

The group also plans workshops to teach young people "what they can do to break down segregation and gain equal rights," he said.

Philander Smith students staged sit-in demonstrations last spring at segregated Little Rock lunch counters.

of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark. in 1962.

The governor, in a Labor Day speech at the 8th annual Clothes Line Fair of the Council of Ozark Artists and Craftsmen, made no mention of today's school-opening in Little Rock. On Labor Day of 1957 he called out the National Guard to block scheduled integration at Central High School.

Faubus referred only in passing to the integration question, saying that in his home county of Madison "you didn't go where you weren't invited unless you went to raise hell."

He also expressed support for a minimum wage proposal to be voted on in November, but devoted most of his speech to reviewing his administration.

Pedron-Broomas Vows Pledged
In a ceremony performed Sunday August 28 in the Greek Orthodox Church in Little Rock, Miss Follie Broomas, daughter of Spiro D. Broomas of that city, became the bride of Thomas Adrian Pedron, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Raymond Pedron of Hope. After a wedding trip through Missouri the couple will make their home in Little Rock.
Mr. Pedron is a graduate of Hope High School, Henderson
State College and the University of Arkansas Law School. His wife also is a graduate of the University of Arkansas.

Honored With Wedding Shower
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brown were honored with a wedding shower, Sept. 3 at the home of Mrs. Hanson Rothwell with Mrs.
Minnie West and Mrs. Gloria Nations as co-hostesses.
Mrs. Brown, who wore a white dress trimmed with lace, pinned a pink and white aster corsage at her shoulder. Pretty calladium leaves decorated the home for the party.

Games were enjoyed by the group. They presented the honored couple many pretty and useful gifts. For refreshments cake and cold drinks were served.

Out of town guests included
Mrs. Otis Ford of Ashdown, Mrs.
Albert McCorkle and Mrs. Charles Coleman of Ft. Worth, Texas
Mrs. Wilton Garrett of Memphis
Mrs. Sam Arnold and Mrs. Trav-

Coming and Going

Last week David Lewis and Laine Pierce enrolled in Arkansas
A&M in Monticello as freshmen.
Jimmy Porterfield and Jimmy Chambliss, who will be upper classmen, followed on Sunday.

At Conway Baptist College Jo Ann Kidd has entered as a freshman. Polly McCorkle and Jerry Kidd are also upper classmen.

Claudia McCorkle left Sunday for ISTC in Arkadelphia to become a junior. Freshmen will include Nancy Reese and Sondra
Russell, 1960 graduates of Hope High School.

The freshman class at Southern State College in Magnolia will have the following Hope High graduates: Dean Byers, Tommy Montgomery, Don Oglesby, Denny Dickinson, Shirley Allen, Larry Patterson and Charles Flowers.

Enrolling at Ouachita Baptist College in Arkadelphia were Carolyn Yarbrough, Patsy Burroughs, Priscilla Johnston, Eddie King, Caryl Joy Case, George
McGill, Byron Smiley, Sue Ann
Smith, Judy Davis, and Jerry Owen.

Woven wool separates, some of them color-mated to broadcloth skirts, will go to class on campuses across the country this fall. Though the pleated skirt gets the emphasis, there are still slim skirts around for girls who love them. An example is (left) this slim cotton knit skirt paired with cotton knit jacket in abstract pattern. The color is winter violet.
Here's the well-loved Chanel look (center) in checked jacket and box-pleated skirt. Jacket and skirt are in worsted wool; skirt is cotton broadcloth. Wool separates (right) take on a look of togetherness when they're done like these. Check is in putty and bronze; cotton shirt is putty color. All designs shown here are by Aileen.

DOROTHY DIX

Prefers Death to Life
With Loud-Mouthed Husband

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

I'm in my middle fifties and from a large but poor family. My mother died young. My parents were very strict and religious.
We lived in backwoods. My father forbad us going to parties or square dances. We were not allowed to read magazines because it was a sin and did not have any books except the Bible. By the time I got married at 21, I had read the Bible through twice.

My problem is this: I met a young fellow two years older than me, nice appearing and quite a talker, and from a family that were in much higher bracket than we financially. I loved him. He preferred me to other girls. I was average good looking.

Soon after we married I found out he wanted to be the center of attention. When my friends came to visit, he simply booms in and hogs all conversation. I can't get a word in edgewise. If I try, he talks louder. The only way I can talk is through letters.
Until my health went bad I worked in the field and helped.
We raised six children and sent them to school. They are all fine people, nice personalities, good looking.

I think my husband has always been jealous of me and the children. He never gives me an allowance. Right now I need so many things but I don't dare say anything for he would blow his top. I wonder where I've failed.
Could you tell me how I can be less miserable? He's about killed my love. I long to just stop breathing and be out of it. Any advice will be appreciated. —
Neglected

Dear Neglected:

You can be less miserable in two ways: By recognizing the fact that every man feels a compulsion to be a ruler in his own yard, and by recognizing that you have a wonderful life. Anyone who can rear six children who turn out well has much to be proud of.
Know that every husband must—or should—be the head of the family. It is better that your own man overdoes this role than un-derplays it. Let him know that you recognize him as head of the family. That will make it unnecessary for him to insist on proving it every time you speak.

Dear Helen:
I have had a desire to write for several years. Could I please have a copy of your leaflet, "So You Want to Write"? Will you refer me to any other material for beginners writers?

I am a housewife with two children. I worked at secretarial work until I started my family. I am happy being home with my children but would love to try my hand at writing. —Betty

Dear Betty:
The best way to learn to write is by writing about subjects you know—and reading the classics.
Is there a Great Books Group in your town? If not, why not start a readers group? It will be not only instructive but fun.

Dear Helen:
My husband and I have some friends who have a small boy of 8-year-old daughter how mat jumping was done.

Norfleet was temporarily paralyzed but physicians said there was no permanent paralysis. He was placed in traction and expected to remain in the hospital several weeks.

Long's Body to Be Taken to Capitol

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) —

Earl Kemp Long returns today to the state Capitol he alternately dominated or tried to dominate for almost 30 years.

His seemingly boundless energy stilled forever by a third heart attack Monday, the 65-year-old pa-triarh of the state's first political family was to be borne from Alexandria, where he died, to the Capitol he ruled during three terms as governor.

There he was to lie in state 24 hours, until noon Wednesday. Funeral services were set for 2 p.m.
Wednesday at the First Baptist Church.

Burial plans were tentatively announced for his Winfield home but members of the Long family clung to the hope that would be able to satisfy one his last wishes.
That was to be buried on the Capitol grounds alongside his brother, Huey P. Long, felled by an assassin's bullet 25 years ago this Thursday.

There will be eight pallbearers at the funeral, among them Earl Long's nephew, U.S. Sen. Russell
B. Long, D-La., son of Huey P.
Long.

Although most of the talk throughout the state was of disbelief at the sudden death of Ole Earl, a note of realism crept in among 8th District political leaders. They must select a successor to Long as Democratic candidate for Congress by Sept. 20.
Committee chairman Jesse Funderburk said it was likely Rep.

Harold McSwain, defeated for re-nomination by Long, Aug. 27, would be nominated.

In and out of the executive mansion and several mental hospitals, Long had capped his long years in the limelight just 10 days ago, when he defeated McSwain by 4,000 votes in a Democratic runoff in the 8th District.

Death came just when he seemed to be getting better. Mrs.
Long said she had been told he had spent a good night Sunday.
Then at 7:30 a.m. Monday Long "coughed once or twice, turned over in his bed and died."

Suit Challenges Patio Shot Rule

HOPE SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A suit challenging legality of a school board regulation requiring a patio shot, was filed today in Garfield County Court.

The action was filed by Harvey
Hates, on behalf of his daughter, Norma Sherry Hates, identified as a student in Hope Springs city schools.

Hates asked the school board to restrain from enforcing a regulation, adopted last year, which requires that all children entering school must have completed a series of three Salk vaccine shots.

The suit states that the plaintiff is a member of the First Protestant Church, is opposed on religious grounds to any form of medical treatment whatsoever.

A delegation from the church recently asked the board to exempt children of church members from the regulation.

China, but said nothing about the May Day U2 flight for which the Russians gave Francis Gary Powers a 10-year sentence.

They said one of the reasons they left the United States was persecution there of persons who do not believe in God. They attacked what they called harassment of those with unpopular political views.

"Talents of women are encouraged and utilized to a much greater extent in the Soviet Union than in the United States," they said in a statement. "We feel that this enhances Soviet society and makes Soviet women more desirable as mates."

"It is a difficult and painful experience to leave our native country, families and friends. Yet we felt that the United States government, in carrying out policies dangerous to world peace, should not be allowed to rely on these emotional attachments to guarantee the loyalty of its citizens."

Discussing U.S. hostility toward communism, their statement said: "Perhaps U.S. hostility toward communism arises out of a feeling of insecurity engendered by Communist achievements in science, culture and industry. If this feeling of insecurity engendered by a poor excuse for endangering world peace."

Rail Awaits Answer to Strike Order

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - The Pennsylvania Railroad awaited an answer today from two striking unions on its offer to submit to "final and binding arbitration" three issues which it says are blocking settlement of a six-day strike which has shut down the nation's largest rail carrier.

PRR officials announced at a news conference Monday night they had sent telegrams to the Transport Workers and System Federation unions that the railroad would be willing "provided the strike is called off immediately, to sign up on the 23 issues tentatively agreed upon" and to settle three others by arbitration.

Immediately after the news conference a spokesman for both unions said they had not received the telegrams which were read later on a television show by management officials.

"It is not correct and yet more absolutely incorrect" that 23 issues had been tentatively agreed upon, the spokesman said.

Michael J. Quill, president of the Transport Workers, which has some 15,000 nonoperating employees on strike, said he would have no immediate comment on the offer.

Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia announced that he would meet with Quill and other officials of the TWU in the mayor's office to discuss the railroad's latest offer.

"In view of the offer of the Pennsylvania Railroad which makes it clear that it is possible to settle the strike promptly, I have called upon Mr. Quill to remain in the city with his top officials and be available for meetings to put an end to this strike," the mayor said.

Quill had planned to leave Philadelphia today for a tour of the 10,000-mile PRR network in 19 states and the District of Columbia to rally his striking members and also the 5,000 System Federation nonoperating employees.

The issues which the railroad agreed to submit to arbitration are:

1. Strict definition of job classifications by which the union picks to prevent the railroad from assigning employees to different types of work.

2. The railroad's practice of "farming out" repair work to other firms if it is more economical than doing the work in its own shops.

Orioles Split Pair, Cling to American Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles, surprise team of the year, win or lose, lost half of their American League lead in the Labor Day firing, and fell from first to one of three places, or all three together.

1. Illness and injury.
2. A let down by the Baby Birds.
3. No let up by the Washington Senators.

With third baseman Brooks Robinson, all left fielder Gene Woodling, hitting, the Birds split their doubleheader at Washington, losing 4-0 before rebounding for a 3-1 victory behind Skinny Brown's three-hit piling.

Whatever the reason, that first game defeat chopped the Birds' winning streak at seven and whittled their edge to one game over the Yankees, who took a pair of 3-2 decisions from Boston.

The third-place Chicago White Sox, four games behind, lost 4-7 in a single night game at Kansas City, Cleveland and Detroit split, the Tigers winning the opener 4-3 and the Indians winning the second 4-2.

In the National League, Pittsburgh retained a 6 1/2 game bulge in a split with Milwaukee. The Braves won the opener 9-7, then lost 7-1. St. Louis gained a second-place tie with Milwaukee by beating Chicago's Cubs 3-2 in 10 innings, and then playing a 4-4 tie called after 10 innings because of darkness at Wrigley Field, Cincinnati whipped Philadelphia 9-2.

Los Angeles and San Francisco divided a pair, the Giants winning the opener 12-8 and the Dodgers taking the second game 4-3.

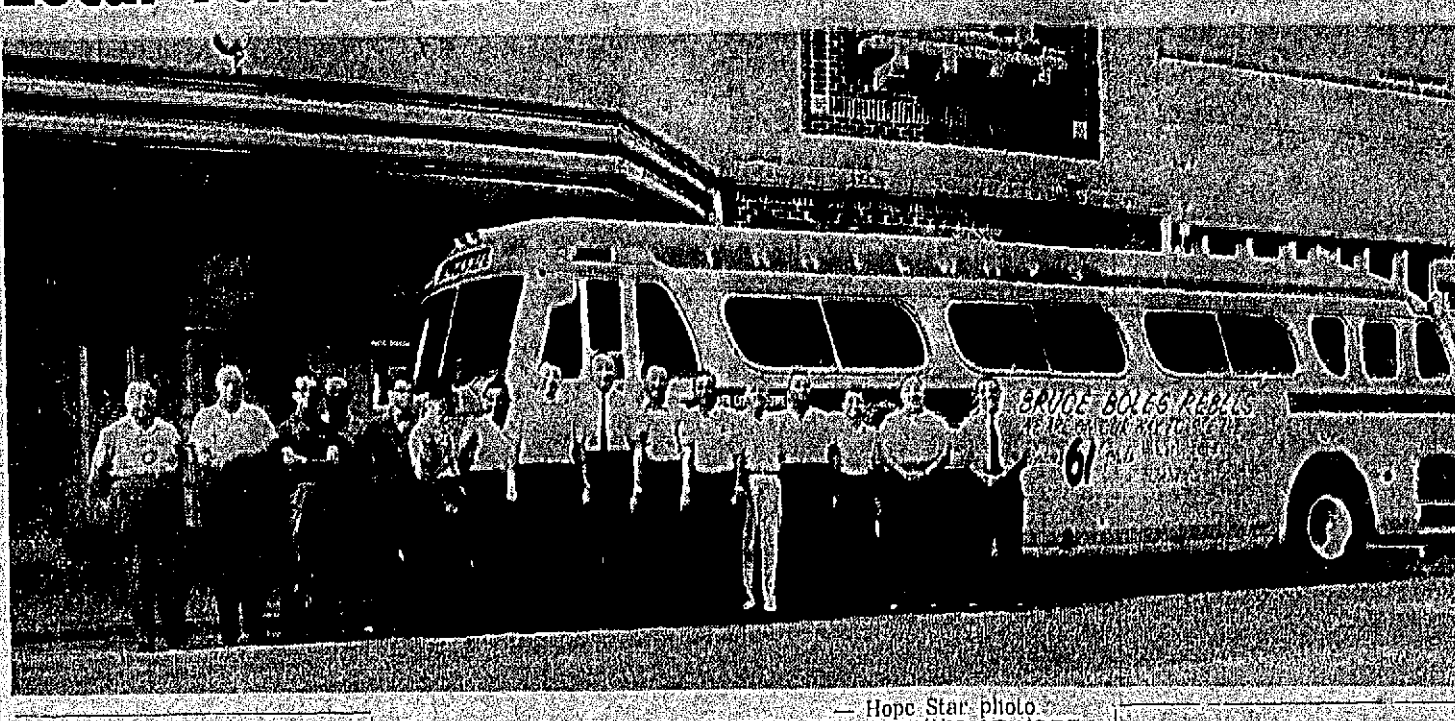

Big bats were what the Orioles needed in the opener. While Harmon Killebrew and Ren0 Berioia crashed two-run homers for Washington, lefty Chuck Stobbs and Hal Woodchuck blanked the Birds on five hits. Stobbs (10-5) allowed only three hits and struck out seven before giving in to an asthmatic attack in the seventh inning. Young Steve Barber (9-5) was the loser, giving up Killebrew's 25th homer in the first inning.

The Birds backed Brown, who struck out 11 and had a two-hit shutout until the ninth inning while winning his 11th, with a clinching pair of runs in the fifth off. Pedro Ramos (10-14), Ron Hansen's 20th home run, a walk and Jackie Brandt's single did it.

The Yankees had to come from behind in both games against the Red Sox. They ended their four-game slump and beat Bill Monbouquette (13-10) with three runs in the fifth inning of the first game, scoring on Mickey Mantle's double-New York's first extra-base hit in 43 innings—an infield out and Clete Boyer's single. Jim Coates (11-3) won it, shutting out Boston on one hit for five innings in relief of Bob Turley.

Boston took a 2-1 lead in the nightcap on Carroll Hardy's first, opener for the Tigers and right-hander run of the season and an under Bill Fischer (7-6) although RBI double by Lu Clinton. The loser Mudecat Grant (9-7) and Don Yanks tied it on Tony Kubek's Newcombe allowed only four hits, home run in the eighth, off Ike. The Indians got the edge in the Delock, and won it with two out nightcap on Woodie Held's two in the ninth when losing reliever run homer off Paul Foylack (2-10) Mike Fomies (9-5) hit Johnny in the first inning. Barry Latman Blanchard and gave up singles by (3-5) was the winner. He allowed Gil McDougald and Joe DeMaes (five hits, one Rocky Colavito's tri. Blanchard had homered for 128th home run.

Fastest U. S. Runner Was Crippled

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP)—The track and field heroine of the 17th Olympic Games is a shy, frail and almost sickly Tennessee girl who never walked until she was eight years old.

As a baby, Wilma Rudolph was stricken with a form of polio which rendered her limbs helpless. Every week her mother wrapped the whining infant in a blanket and took her by bus 45 miles from Clarksville, Tenn., to Nashville for treatment.

Wilma learned to walk. Then she learned to run.

Today she is the fastest woman runner in the world—acclaimed as another in a line of great olympic champions which includes the late Babe Didrikson, Fanny Blankers-Koen and Betty Culbert.

The tall, leggy Tennessee girl won her second gold medal Monday, capturing the 200-meter race in 24 seconds flat on a slow track. Previously she had won the 100 in a phenomenal 11 seconds. On Thursday she anchors three of her Negro teammates from Tennessee. A and I College in the sprint relay for a probable third.

Until Wilma did it, no American ever won the women's 200. She became the first double gold medalist for the United States in women's track and field since the immortal Didrikson won the hurdles and javelin in 1932.

She is the darling of the Rome games—surrounded by admiring the first run, Bobby Shantz (5-4) was the winning pitcher in relief. The A's banged loser Bob Shaw (12-12) and Dick Donovan, first of five White Sox relievers, for seven runs in the first inning on seven hits, four of them doubles. Ray Herbert (10-14) was the winner.

Home runs by Charlie Maxwell and Norm Cash packed away the nightcap on Carroll Hardy's first, opener for the Tigers and right-hander run of the season and an under Bill Fischer (7-6) although RBI double by Lu Clinton. The loser Mudecat Grant (9-7) and Don Yanks tied it on Tony Kubek's Newcombe allowed only four hits, home run in the eighth, off Ike. The Indians got the edge in the Delock, and won it with two out nightcap on Woodie Held's two in the ninth when losing reliever run homer off Paul Foylack (2-10) Mike Fomies (9-5) hit Johnny in the first inning. Barry Latman Blanchard and gave up singles by (3-5) was the winner. He allowed Gil McDougald and Joe DeMaes (five hits, one Rocky Colavito's tri. Blanchard had homered for 128th home run.

Clare Fern McDougald
Weds. Oswald Haynes

Miss Clare Fern McDougald became the bride of Oswald Maurice Haynes in a double-ring ceremony at the College Church of Christ in Searcy at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. McDougald of Searcy, formerly of Prescott. The bride groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Haynes of Lubbock, Texas.

William Leslie Burks read the vows before an order of huckleberry and ivy flanked by two seven-branched candelabra. The wedding music by the Harding College A Capella Chorus included "O Promise Me," "I'll Walk Beside Thee," "Faithful and True," and the traditional wedding marches. As the couple knelt for prayer before an altar banked with huckleberry, "Father Hear The Prayer We Offer" was sung. The candlelighters were Oscar McDougald, brother of the bride and Phillip Elliot.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white silk satin fashioned with lace and pearls and carried a bouquet of white gardenias. Her elbow length illusion veil was attached to a crown of pearls.

Mrs. Don Pate of Biggers, her sisters matron of honor, wore a cherry cotton with a full skirt and lace bodice. The bridesmaids Misses Sonya and Leminda McDougald, sisters of the bride and Mrs. Bennett Wood of Memphis, wore baby blue cotton with full skirts and lace bodices and carried cherry gladioli with white streamers.

O. B. Haynes served his son as best man. Groomsman were Don Pate of Biggers, Ed High-tower of Weslaco Tex. and Carlton Burke of Searcy.

For her daughters wedding Mrs. McDougald chose a beige silk brocade dress with matching accessories and a corsage of blue carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink ensemble and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride. The bride's table was covered with an imported damask cloth. White tapers in crystal holders flanked the green and white centerpiece. Mrs. Mercedes Wren of Kilgore, Texas, sister of the groom, served the two tiered cherry and white wedding cake. Mrs. Edwin Hightower served the cherry punch from a large crystal bowl.

For travel the bride wore a navy silk shantung dress with matching accessories and a gardenia from her bouquet.

After a wedding trip through the Smokey Mountains, the couple both English major graduates of Harding College, will reside in Richmond, Va. where Mr. Haynes will attend the Union Theological Seminary. Mrs. Haynes will teach English in Goochland, Va. High School.

Mrs. Marion Bisbee and Miss Elizabeth Black of Osceola were Thursday guests of Mrs. Clara Stone and Miss Luella Stone.

Mrs. Allen Gee Jr. and sons, Bill and Ran, have returned to Pine Bluff after a visit with Mrs. Jim Yancey and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gee.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Sloan and Brannon of Jonesboro and Miss Judy Gilbert of Memphis were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilbert, Little Miss Melissa Sloan accompanied her parents home after a two weeks visit with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Boll, Alan and Susan have returned to Houston, Tex. after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wells Hamby.

Jim McKenzic left Friday for Fayetteville to attend rush week at the U of A where he is a member of the SAE fraternity. He will be a sophomore this year.

George Fritz of North Little Rock was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hansel Herzing and was accompanied home by Mrs. Fritz who spent the past week with her parents.

Pressure on Johnson in the Decathlon

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP)—The pressure was on pace-setting Rafer Johnson of the United States today as the Olympic decathlon field plunged into the final half of the grueling 10-event program.

Johnson's California buddy, Chian-kwang Yang of Nationalist China, trailed Rafer by only 55 points and was in an excellent position to beat out the touted American for the games most coveted gold medal.

After Monday's storm-interrupted competition in the 100-meter dash, broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400 meter, Johnson had 4,645 points and Yang, a supple 175-pounder, had 4,592.

The decathlon warfare became a two-man scrap when the Soviet Union's heralded Vasily Kuznetsov faltered to a fifth-place total of 3,909. Third with 4,677 was Germany's Klaus Grogorenz, and fourth with 4,631 was Finland's Seppo Sutari.

Unless Johnson does at least as well in the five remaining events as he did in setting his current world record of 8,693 in the Olympic trials last July, Yang may overtake him.

Only in the discus does the lithe, 200-pound Johnson have a distinct edge over Yang. In the other four events on the final decathlon program—110 meter hurdles, pole vault, javelin and 1,500 meters—Yang compares favorably with the Yank from Kingsburg, Calif.

The Chinese athlete shared high jump laurels at 6 feet, 2 inches with India's Gubashasthi Randhawa and whipped Johnson in a head-to-head 400 meter heat by two meters. Johnson cleared 6 feet, 1 inch in the high jump.

Yang's 400 meter clocking was 48.1 against 48.3 for Johnson.

Of Monday's five events, Johnson had the superior performance in only one event—the shotput with a 51-10 toss. Yang led the broad jump with 24-5/8, compared with Johnson's best of 24-0/8. Best time in the 100 meters was Yang's 10.7 against Johnson's 10.9.

Pirates Keep Lead, Beating Spahn, Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

With the next to last mile post on the pennant path behind them, the Pittsburgh Pirates still have a 6 1/2 game bulge in the National League race. And they did it the hard way, by beating Warren Spahn.

The Braves, playing 667 ball (10-ly good), but said the afternoon 5) against Milwaukee, ended a seven-run fourth inning for a 0-7 first game victory in their Labor Day doubleheader.

Braves bounced back, winning 7-1 in the nightcap, but the split dropped them into a second-place tie with St. Louis.

That also dropped the Pirates, who made number 17 in pursuit of that final mile post—the game that clinches their first flag in 33 years. Any combination of Blue victories and Milwaukee or St. Louis defeats totaling 17 disposes of the runners-up.

St. Louis moved into a tie with Milwaukee by winning 2-1 in 10 innings at Chicago, before playing a 4-4, 10-inning tie with the Cubs.

The second game at Wrigley Field only major league park without lights, was called because of darkness.

Cincinnati walloped Philadelphia in a night game. San Francisco made it four in a row over Los Angeles, winning 12-8, before the Dodgers won the second game of their twilight doubleheader 4-3.

In the American League, second-place New York beat Boston twice by 3-2 scores and moved within one game of first place.

Baltimore, the Orioles split at Washington, losing 4-0, then winning 3-1. Third-place Chicago, four games behind, lost 8-7 at Kansas City in a single game. Cleveland and Detroit split, the Tigers winning the opener 4-3, and the Indians taking the second game 4-3.

The Pirates, down quick when Ed Matthews' 32nd home run counted three Milwaukee runs in the first inning, took an 8-4 lead when they shelled Spahn in the fourth. Don Hoak's 15th home run, with a man on, and Dick Stuart's 18th, a three-run shot off reliever Joey Jay, put it away. The last three runs were unearned. Fred Green (7-4) was the winner, after though pitching only the fourth inning, in relief of starter Bob Friend. Spahn, now 17-8, had won nine of 10 decisions since July 9.

In the nightcap, Chuck Cottler banged three doubles as the Braves came back behind a seven-hit pitching job by Bob Buhl (14-8) and whipped Harvey Had-dick (10-9).

The Cards won the first game on a walk, George Crowe's pinch hit, a hit batsman and a forcing out grounder by Stan Musial nightcap. Roger Craig (7-1) won against reliever Don Elston (8-8) his sixth in a row.

Says Porks Must Show Improvement

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

Coach Frank Broyles, still pressing for improvement in his Arkansas Razorbacks, looks to Saturday's final scrimmage to determine the first, second and third units.

"Things have got to pick up if we're going to improve any better," he said. "This is our last week of the season. We've got to show some improvement."

He labeled the first session "preliminary," but said the afternoon practice would be "dragg."

The Porks do not scrimmage once the season starts, so Saturday's conflict will be their last of the practice. Broyles planned to start today, pointing toward the Sept. 17 clash with Oklahoma State.

End Leslie Lelsinger twisted a knee yesterday but Broyles said he should be back in a couple of days. He pronounced star halfback Lance Alworth's injured ankle "all right," there's no indication he's ever been hurt."

Local Pastures to Be Inspected

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—James W. Cross of Clarksville, Tenn., a field representative for the Agriculture Department, will visit five south Arkansas counties today and tomorrow to check pasture conditions.

The counties—Cleveland, Nevada, Hempstead, Miller and Lafayette—have asked for federal assistance because of drought damage to feed crops.

Robert B. Stimpson of Dumas, chairman of the state Disaster Committee, will accompany Cross on the tour.

In the 10th, Lindy McDaniel won in relief of Larry Jackson.

Five walks helped the Cubs wipe out a 3-0 Card lead with four runs in the sixth inning of the nightcap against Ray Sadecki. St. Louis then tied it in the eighth on singles by Joe Cunningham and Boyer and Walt Moryn's forceout against Glen Hobbie, third Chicago pitcher.

Cincinnati, eliminated by Pittsburgh's victory, tagged loser Bob in Roberts (9-14) and two relievers for 17 hits, including home runs by Frank Robinson (10-27), Billy Martin and Vada Pinson. Bob Purkey went all the way for his 16th victory although allowing 13 hits—all singles.

TWO MINUTE MYSTERY

THE CASE OF
THE PETITE WIFE
By DONALD J. SOBOL

"I'll have to take you down to headquarters, Mr. Logan," said Inspector Winters. "Your car was identified as the one seen speeding away from the corner of Everett and Rose, where the Burton boy was hit this morning."

"Obviously, there's been a mistake," said Logan, a huge man of six feet six inches. "I haven't driven the car in two days."

"Larry Appleson, a playmate of the injured boy, is pretty sure it was your car, and driven by a big man," replied the inspector.

Logan laughed genially. "Now I know there's been an error. The only person who drove the car this morning was my wife. She hardly can be mistaken for a man."

The inspector glanced at Mrs. Logan, a pale blonde, hardly five feet tall.

"I put it to you, inspector," said Logan. "Could you mistake Claire for a man?"

"No," agreed the inspector. "One other thing. The hit-run car made a lot of noise, as if it had muffler trouble."

"Listen for yourself," invited Logan, leading the inspector to the garage.

Taking a set of keys from his pocket, he slipped comfortably behind the wheel, and started the motor without delay. He backed the car onto the street and drove twice around the block.

"The car operated noiselessly," the inspector told Haledjian later. "But even before I discovered it had
